ADDITIONAL CITY NEWS.
An Abortion Case.
The principal theme of gossip on the street this forenoon is that of the alleged abortion produced a day or two since upon a young woman at a West Maryland street boarding house, by a well known physician of this city. The circumstances of the case seem to be about as follows:
Tuesday evening last a young woman, apparently about twenty years of age and of good appearance, applied for and was accommodated with board at the house referred to. Wednesday morning she informed the mistress of the house that she was feeling very ill, and requested the physician, whom rumor accuses of the crime, to be sent for. He came, and was with her most of the day in her room. In the afternoon, several persons who occupy rooms in a building next to the boarding, from the windows a full view can be had of the room in which the young woman lay, assert that they saw the physician produce the abortion and afterward depart from the house with something in a tin can. Wednesday evening the young woman left the boarding house in company with the physician, and it is asserted by certain parties that both went to the latter's residence in the northern part of the city. Yesterday the matter was placed in the hands of the police, two of whom were placed to watch the house where the girl is supposed to be, and the movements of the physician, until warrants could be issued.
At a quarter past two o'clock this afternoon the alleged abortionist, Dr. Edward Howard, senior member of the firm of Howard & Son, cancer doctors of this city, was brought into Justice Bogges' office under arrest by Lieutenant Bolen. The woman gives the name of Jones, and is a stranger to these parts. The prisoner waived preliminary examination and will furnish bail for his appearance for trial in the Criminal Court.
Amusements.
ACADEMY OF MUSIC.--To-night Simmons & Slocum's Minstrels give their opening entertainment at the Academy. Judging from what we hear of this company, it is a good one. At other points where it has played since its departure from Philadelphia, most favorable notices have been awarded it. There will undoubtedly be a full house to-night.
On Monday evening the Sappho Burlesque Opera and Comedy Troupe will open an engagement of one week. The managers claim that the Sappho has no equal in history or the present age; that she is a great intellectual curiosity, just ten years of age, possessing a wonderful power, acute memory, beautiful voice and extraordinary perception of character. Her efforts are those of an artist of mature growth, taught by nature and not the result of severe training. In Chicago where the company has been playing at Crosby's Opera House, large and enthusiastic audiences have greeted this little wonder nightly. Her advent here will be anxiously looked for.
MEYERPOLITAN.--The popularity of the excellent company now playing at the Metropolitan continues unabated, the building being comfortably filled each evening. To-morrow evening a "new departure" will be made, in the introduction of a sparring exhibition between Ned Baldwin and Tom Kelly.
Building Permits.
The following building permits were issued for the week ending at noon to-day:
A. Nattner, frame dwelling, Meridian, between Merrill and McCarty, $6,000.
L. M. Vance, frame dwelling, Cadz, between Washington and Central Railroad, $2,500.
J. Fletcher, frame stable, $500.
Amanda F. Jenkins, frame dwelling, Illinois, between First and Second, $3,000.
NEW JERSEY.
Fatal Train Accident.
HOBOKEN, July 14.--A fatal stabbing affray took place here last night, between Timothy Collins and S. Reuben. The two quarreled standing on the street corner. Reuben was observed to fall to the ground, crying out "I am killed." Collins immediately fled. Reuben sent in a report of the affair of that night. It was found that he had been stabbed in the left side. The wound is situated immediately under the heart, and caused internal hemorrhage. Collins has not been arrested yet.
FROM WASHINGTON.
Kansas College--Kentucky War Claims.
[From the Cincinnati Gazette's Special of this morning.]
The trustees of Ottawa College, Kansas, in obedience to an order of Secretary Delano, have sent in a report of the affairs of that institution. The Indians from whom the lands of the college were obtained charge high-handed swindling, the secretary, after investigation, ordered a report. The latter was received by no means covers the ground, and intimates that the present trustees know little of the early history of the institution. The official records now in the department show a clear case of fraud in early transactions with the Indians, and the department will institute measures for an honest settlement with the Indians.
Secretary Boutwell arrived this afternoon. The agents to settle the pending war claim of Kentucky called on him immediately and urged him to sign a warrant for a half million for payment to the home guards of that will institute measures for an honest settlement with the Indians.
The steamship Port-au-Prince, from New York, for Port-au-Prince, was wrecked on the 21st of June, on Mayaguez, Bahamas Island. All the crew were saved, fifteen of whom have arrived at Philadelphia.
The Masonic Grand Lodge of Canada is in session at Ottawa. Grand Master Stevenson delivered the annual address. A discussion is going on with reference to the question of acknowledging the Quebec Grand Lodge.
On Wednesday, at Burlington, Iowa, Mrs. John Parna committed suicide by shooting herself with a fowling gun. She loaded the gun, placed the muzzle in her mouth and with a poker against the trigger discharged it.
At Osceola, Missouri, on the 29th ult., Jacob Henning, charged with the murder of James Hughes, was taken from jail by a body of vigilants and hung. According to a statement made by the Osceola Democrat, everything was done decently and in order.
Mrs. J. D. Williams and Mrs. Henry Williams were thrown from a carriage, in Boston yesterday. The latter was killed and the former fatally injured. Mrs. Henry Williams was the daughter of Samuel Frothingham.
A St. Louis man, named John Carlin, while attempting to get on a moving train on the bridge crossing the Missouri river at St. Charles yesterday, missed his hold and was knocked off the bridge and fell a distance of ninety feet to the rocks below. No bones were broken and the man is expected to recover.
Yesterday morning a break ninety feet in extent occurred in the Wabash canal, two and a half miles from Wilkesbarre, filling the Enterprise and Burroughs collieries with water and suspending operations for perhaps two months. The canal will be repaired in a week or ten days. The amount of damage has not been ascertained. No one injured.
In the Educational Convention, at Winchester, Virginia, yesterday, Walter R. Abbott was elected President for the ensuing year. At the evening session Professor John Miner, of the Virginia University, delivered an address on Bible teaching in schools, taking strong ground in favor of Biblical instruction in all schools. An animated debate on the subject followed.

The Story of the Riot--Charles Francis Adams Interviewed.
[From the Cincinnati Commercial's Special of this morning.]
Now that the smoke of the riot has cleared away, and the excitement of the hour has given place to sober observation, the plain facts of the occurrence appear to be as follows:
Gideon Lodge of Orangemen had intended to join the procession of their brethren in Jersey City, but the proclamation of Governor Hoffman, promising the protection of the law to make a change in their programme. They met at their headquarters, on the northwest corner of Twenty-ninth street and Eighth avenue, early on Wednesday morning.
They sent a communication to their brethren in Jersey City, declining their invitation to join in the procession over the river and announcing that they would parade in this city.
They applied to Governor Hoffman for protection, and received from him hearty assurances that they should have it to the utmost extent of the civil and military authorities. As an earnest of this protection, a strong force of police was immediately sent to their lodgeroom. The military did not arrive there till afternoon.
Meanwhile a highly excited crowd had gathered about the building, which increased in numbers until it ran over into the adjacent streets and extended down Eighth avenue half a dozen blocks. The majority of persons in this crowd were apparently Ribbonmen, who were evidently awaiting an opportunity to make an attack upon the procession when it should appear.
During the morning, large bands of Irishmen, public laborers, had quit work in the upper part of the city, and, after making an ineffectual attempt to seize the armory of the Sixty-ninth and the Fenian army, drifted over to Eighth avenue in squads of blood-thirsty ruffians, the most of them armed with revolvers, and awaited an opportunity for an attack.
The procession moved about half-past two o'clock. Before the command to march had been given, paving-stones had been hurled among the troops, and it is said one or two pistol shots were fired by the mob.
The police were continually driving back rowdying rioters, their services being almost incessantly required for the purpose. When the column moved, stones were hurled upon the procession from the houses along Eighth avenue, and chimneys were torn down to the roof that their bricks might serve the assailants for missiles. The day was very hot. The National Guard moved forward, paying but little attention to the shower of stones and bricks which was rained upon them. Finally pistol shots were heard. At first it was difficult to tell where they came from. Apparently embodied by the forbearance of the military, the Ribbonmen then made their appearance in the third story windows and house-tops. They gathered in the alleys, and fired on soldiers. They shot a little girl wearing an orange dress through the breast. At length Sergeant Page, the favorite of the Ninth Regiment, was killed. As he fell to the pavement, with blood gushing from his crushed skull and his face ghastly in the throes of death, his comrades, incensed beyond endurance, and without having orders, but in pursuance of a general order, opened fire upon the mob. Other regiments also opened fire.
Volleys of musketry were heard, preceded and followed by a rattling and scattering fire. The crowd broke wildly, and sought shelter in houses and fled down side streets. The procession moved on to the tune of "The Stars and Banner," and the street in their rear was covered with dead bodies.
Two other attacks were made on the procession, which were repulsed by the police. There was apparently no organization on the part of the mob. It seemed to have no leaders, but every Ribbonman went into the business of assassination on his own hook. There was only such union and concert of action among them as resulted from their common bloody purpose.
The instincts of the mob were hideously brutal. There was the same feeling exhibited as during the terrible riot of 1863. When one of the Ribbonmen of the Ninth Regiment was killed and his body carried into a drug store, the Ribbonmen made desperate attempts to get possession of the corpse for purposes of mutilation. If any wounded soldier had been left upon the street there is not a doubt but they would have suffered most horrible outrages at the hands of their barbarous assailants.
The procession, after traversing only a part of the route intended, made a short cut to their place of destination, in Fourth avenue, near Cooper Institute, and, after a short stay, they massed the little band of Orangemen, who concealed their regalia, fled into No. 4 Fourth avenue, made their way through an alley to another street, where there was no crowd, and disappeared from observation. Such is the story of the Hibernian riot of July 12, 1871.
The number killed will probably reach fifty as many of the wounded must die. The number of those who were slain outright is thirty-seven.
Probably over a hundred persons were wounded.
[From the Cincinnati Gazette's Special.]
An interview writes that Charles Francis Adams declares he has no interest in politics, and will not be a candidate for office under any circumstances whatever. Being asked his opinion of the new departure, Adams replied: "Well I can't of course say what it will amount to. There is no doubt but the Democrats have made a great many mistakes, and this acknowledgment of them is no doubt a step in the right direction, if they wish to become the party of the country. There are no new issues before the people, and politics therefore lose their charm except for interested politicians, and I think my stars that I am not one of that class. I wanted office perhaps I could dig up something to talk about."
The convention of Baptists of Kentucky, in session at Louisville yesterday, decided to raise $500,000 to locate the Southern Baptist University, now at Greenville, North Carolina, at some favorable point in Kentucky, provided the Baptists of the other Southern States would raise $200,000 more.

Pleasanton to be Relieved--What he Says of it, etc.

[Special to New York Tribune.]
WASHINGTON, July 14.--There is the best authority for the report that the general revenue matter was settled yesterday, while Secretary Boutwell was at Long Branch, by the appointment of J. W. Douglass, Deputy Commissioner, to be Commissioner in place of General Pleasanton. The appointment will be made public in a day or two.
General Pleasanton put an end yesterday to all conjectures as to his course in conversation in regard to the reports current here. He said he did not intend to resign, because he believed that he was in the right; he says he does not want a foreign mission, and will not have one, and that he would do nothing to relieve Mr. Boutwell of his sensibilities. If the President wants him to leave the Internal Revenue Board his successor must be named, he would take no intimation.
It has been decided by the Postmaster General to advertise again for proposals for carrying the mails in all the Southern States, excepting Tennessee and Kentucky, for the fiscal year just begun. This action is rendered necessary by the refusal of those to whom Bids. 10,000 and 11,000 were awarded to accept the awards, basing their refusal on the assertion that they had fixed the amount of compensation at too low figures.
[Special to New York Herald.]
There was received at the Post Office Department the postal treaty concerning the international exchange of postal money orders between Great Britain, just concluded in London by Dr. Charles McDonald, who went to England for the purpose of negotiating this measure in the capacity of agent of the United States.
ILLINOIS.
Council Vacation--The Zeigener Case--The Scott Centennial, Etc.
CHICAGO, July 14.--At an informal meeting of the Common Council it was determined to take a vacation for several weeks, and in the meantime to make an excursion to the Rocky Mountains. Various local officers will accompany the excursion.
The argument in the Zeigener case was closed this forenoon and the case given to the jury at noon.
The Scott centenary celebration union has failed to obtain such talent as is desired to deliver an oration and poem at the anniversary, and has determined to substitute a dramatic performance. The play is to be "Rob Roy."
The second game of base ball for the championship occurred between Chicago and Philadelphia Athletics, at Lake Park to-day. The visitors arrived in the city last evening in force, and feel confident of winning the game to-day. The Chicagoans have been practicing daily and are equally confident of victory. In betting circles very little odds are offered. The Chicago club is rather the favorite. No umpire has as yet been agreed upon.
The game to-day is of great moment, since the two contestants are staked at the head of the list of applicants for the American championship.
The Chicagoans have won ten games and lost four, while the Athletics have won nine and lost four. The interest in the contest is far greater than Chicago for it is almost settled now that the champion race is to be mainly between the Chicago and Athletic clubs.
NEW YORK CITY.
More About the Riots.
NEW YORK, July 14.--The city remained quiet during the night, not a single affray of any description occurred. A lively excitement occurred in the neighborhood of the Tombs Police Court yesterday, by the appearance of the police guard with about fifty prisoners implicated in the riot of Wednesday. The offenders were arraigned separately, before Justice Hogan, and after examination, most of them being unable to procure bail, were locked up and held for trial.
The Herald of this morning says:
The city of New York, in maintenance of the constitutional rights of the people and liberty and law, stands vindicated before the country and the world. The Governor and city authorities proved themselves at all points equal to the emergency. The crowd, the result is a triumph of liberty and law, and all things considered, so great a victory has seldom been so cheaply purchased.
The Tribune says it ought not to cost any more precious blood to establish the fact that this is a land of civil and religious liberty. Yet, if it should cost the lives of thousands the fearful price must be paid.
FOREIGN.
ENGLAND.
LONDON, July 13.--The debate in the House of Lords on the bill for the reorganization of the army was commenced to-day. Lord Northbrook spoke in favor of the proposed measure and was followed by the Earl of Richmond who strongly urged its rejection. At the conclusion of the latter's speech the matter was postponed.
The intelligence of the riots in New York creates the greatest commotion here. The public opinion is strongly in favor of the New York authorities for the guaranteeing of free and unmolested demonstrations to any party.
FRANCE.
Paris, July 13.--The manifesto attacking Minister Washburne, which was contemplated by a section of the international societies, has been suppressed for the present.

WASHINGTON, July 14.--There is the best authority for the report that the general revenue matter was settled yesterday, while Secretary Boutwell was at Long Branch, by the appointment of J. W. Douglass, Deputy Commissioner, to be Commissioner in place of General Pleasanton. The appointment will be made public in a day or two.
General Pleasanton put an end yesterday to all conjectures as to his course in conversation in regard to the reports current here. He said he did not intend to resign, because he believed that he was in the right; he says he does not want a foreign mission, and will not have one, and that he would do nothing to relieve Mr. Boutwell of his sensibilities. If the President wants him to leave the Internal Revenue Board his successor must be named, he would take no intimation.
It has been decided by the Postmaster General to advertise again for proposals for carrying the mails in all the Southern States, excepting Tennessee and Kentucky, for the fiscal year just begun. This action is rendered necessary by the refusal of those to whom Bids. 10,000 and 11,000 were awarded to accept the awards, basing their refusal on the assertion that they had fixed the amount of compensation at too low figures.
[Special to New York Herald.]
There was received at the Post Office Department the postal treaty concerning the international exchange of postal money orders between Great Britain, just concluded in London by Dr. Charles McDonald, who went to England for the purpose of negotiating this measure in the capacity of agent of the United States.

Council Vacation--The Zeigener Case--The Scott Centennial, Etc.
CHICAGO, July 14.--At an informal meeting of the Common Council it was determined to take a vacation for several weeks, and in the meantime to make an excursion to the Rocky Mountains. Various local officers will accompany the excursion.
The argument in the Zeigener case was closed this forenoon and the case given to the jury at noon.
The Scott centenary celebration union has failed to obtain such talent as is desired to deliver an oration and poem at the anniversary, and has determined to substitute a dramatic performance. The play is to be "Rob Roy."
The second game of base ball for the championship occurred between Chicago and Philadelphia Athletics, at Lake Park to-day. The visitors arrived in the city last evening in force, and feel confident of winning the game to-day. The Chicagoans have been practicing daily and are equally confident of victory. In betting circles very little odds are offered. The Chicago club is rather the favorite. No umpire has as yet been agreed upon.
The game to-day is of great moment, since the two contestants are staked at the head of the list of applicants for the American championship.
The Chicagoans have won ten games and lost four, while the Athletics have won nine and lost four. The interest in the contest is far greater than Chicago for it is almost settled now that the champion race is to be mainly between the Chicago and Athletic clubs.
NEW YORK CITY.
More About the Riots.
NEW YORK, July 14.--The city remained quiet during the night, not a single affray of any description occurred. A lively excitement occurred in the neighborhood of the Tombs Police Court yesterday, by the appearance of the police guard with about fifty prisoners implicated in the riot of Wednesday. The offenders were arraigned separately, before Justice Hogan, and after examination, most of them being unable to procure bail, were locked up and held for trial.
The Herald of this morning says:
The city of New York, in maintenance of the constitutional rights of the people and liberty and law, stands vindicated before the country and the world. The Governor and city authorities proved themselves at all points equal to the emergency. The crowd, the result is a triumph of liberty and law, and all things considered, so great a victory has seldom been so cheaply purchased.
The Tribune says it ought not to cost any more precious blood to establish the fact that this is a land of civil and religious liberty. Yet, if it should cost the lives of thousands the fearful price must be paid.

LONDON, July 13.--The debate in the House of Lords on the bill for the reorganization of the army was commenced to-day. Lord Northbrook spoke in favor of the proposed measure and was followed by the Earl of Richmond who strongly urged its rejection. At the conclusion of the latter's speech the matter was postponed.
The intelligence of the riots in New York creates the greatest commotion here. The public opinion is strongly in favor of the New York authorities for the guaranteeing of free and unmolested demonstrations to any party.

Paris, July 13.--The manifesto attacking Minister Washburne, which was contemplated by a section of the international societies, has been suppressed for the present.

The Story of the Riot--Charles Francis Adams Interviewed.
[From the Cincinnati Commercial's Special of this morning.]
Now that the smoke of the riot has cleared away, and the excitement of the hour has given place to sober observation, the plain facts of the occurrence appear to be as follows:
Gideon Lodge of Orangemen had intended to join the procession of their brethren in Jersey City, but the proclamation of Governor Hoffman, promising the protection of the law to make a change in their programme. They met at their headquarters, on the northwest corner of Twenty-ninth street and Eighth avenue, early on Wednesday morning.

The telegraph reports that the slaughter in New York on Wednesday has been largely underestimated. The figures are now placed at one hundred killed and more than three hundred wounded.

The Sixty-ninth (Irish) Regiment behaved so unspontaneously on Wednesday that a majority of them were locked up in their armory. A small detachment which was sent out, confirmed the fears of the officers by afflicting with the rioters.

CARELESSNESS in superscription was the chief reason why 378,000 letters found their way to the dead letter office last month. Of these one half were business letters and 11,700 contained money or valuables. If senders of letters would exercise a little more care there would be less grumbling at the post office management, which has sins enough of its own to bear, without having any vicarious burden imposed upon it.

MAYOR HALL assumes all the responsibility of Kelso's order forbidding the parade of the Orangemen on the 12th, and argues that the event has proved its wisdom. He refused to state whether Governor Hoffman had previous knowledge of it, and he looks upon the Governor's proclamation as similar to the reversal of the judgment of an inferior Court, by the Court of Appeals. The Mayor affirms that the Police Commissioners, Democratic and Republican, were united in favor of Kelso's order.

SIMON CAMERON wants it distinctly understood that he is not intruding for the Vice Presidency, and would not take it if it were offered him. First, and conclusively with Simon, there is no money in it; secondly, if Grant should be the nominee for President there is little chance for succession by the death of the Chief Magistrate—Grant being only forty-nine and disgustingly healthy, while Simon will be seventy-four next inauguration and not over hearty. These reasons should convince the most skeptical that in his refusal to enter the canvass he is honest, for once, at least.

MISSIONARY labor in China has been anything but pastime, but if the orders recently issued receive the sanction of the Emperor, that field will be even more uninviting. It is asserted that the popular dissatisfaction at the presence of the foreign clergy has become deep and outspoken, and that this influence, exercised through the Mandarins upon the government, has resulted in the withdrawal of the concessions to the missionaries. The new regulations provide that hereafter all missions shall be under the supervision of Chinese officials; that not less than forty-five native converts shall be received in any missionary establishments, and that a full record of every baptism shall be returned to the public registration office. It is also directed that all female missionaries must return to their own countries, and that male missionaries not residing in consular ports shall be under the jurisdiction of the local Mandarins. Chinese women are prohibited from attending Christian worship, and only the children of foreigners are permitted to attend the mission schools. In case of riots resulting in the destruction of the property of the missionaries, no compensation can be recovered from the towns in which the disturbances have occurred. These regulations, it is believed, will materially interfere with the missions in China, and the prospect of introducing Christianity into that country is at present more discouraging than ever.

Dr. Livingstone.
Sir Roderick Murchison recently informed the British Geographical Society, relative to his friend Dr. Livingstone, that he had received a letter from Dr. King, dated April 30, 1877, in which he stated that although no one at Zanzibar had been to Manweb, the place where Dr. Livingstone was last heard of, he had ascertained that it was about a month's journey—two hundred or three hundred miles—west of Tanganyika, and was a thriving ivory mart.
Dr. Kirk was of opinion that Livingstone had been led thither to examine a western lake he had heard of, and into which the waters from Casanze flowed, to see whether they go to west of the Congo or north of the Nile basin. He further hoped that, if Livingstone should have settled the outflow of the Tanganyika, he would be satisfied and leave all the rest of the world to future travelers, seeing that he had been out upward of five years, and must sorely want rest. It was satisfactory to know that abundant supplies were waiting for the Doctor at Ujiji, on his return.

Capture of a Drum Fish.
Some gentlemen of New York city went on a fishing expedition, recently, to Bergen Point, New Jersey, to catch weak fish. Instead of catching weak fish, they caught one strong enough to pull the boat, containing three men and a boy, around Newark Bay, for a space of fifteen minutes. The monster of the deep proved to be a huge drum fish weighing fifty-eight and a half pounds, measuring about four feet in length and two feet across the center of the drum-like body. Its head was about twice the size of a man's head, and its mouth was big enough to admit the scales of the fish were of the size and thickness of a small sized clam shell. The fish was cut and distributed among about twenty persons, in pieces large enough to make a good sized meal for a family. The decapitated head is displayed to the wondering gaze of fishermen on the piles at Bergen Point landing.

BY GEORGE COOPER.

Only a willow leaf,
And guarded well,
Only a soldier sent,
Only to learn the drill,
So strange and odd;
Only a while to fill
Life's awkward squad.

Only a pair of hands,
The strife to meet;
Only to wait commands
With tireless feet,
Only a gallant fight,
With tolls to meet;
Only to choose the Right—
The soul's heaven.

Only a march by day,
In storm and sun,
Only a brief delay,
Then "halt" is won.
Only an order sent
For our release;
For a darkness tent,
Then all is peace!

A Woman's Way.

Does it do any good to cry
When some little careless word
Makes your heart grow heavy and beat,
Its bars like a prisoned bird?

Does it do any good to cry
If nobody loves you at all,
And nobody knows how faithfully
You have given your life—your all?

Does it do any good to cry
When you sit down alone
And think of all they said and did—
The others who are gone?

As clouds part after rain,
So this is a woman's way
Of making lighter the heavy heart,
And brighter the shady day.

After the shower of tears,
The tender light will dawn
Of a sweet content that can live on,
And toil to the end unknown.

What, now, do I care
Whether they praise or blame?
Whether they give me a cross to bear
Or the laurel wreath of fame?

Orange lodges were not formed, in Ireland, until 1795, though the Irish Protestants had, for a century before, been associated in clubs under the titles of Peep o' Day Boys, Hearts of Steel Boys, Dark Boys and Bright Boys. In that year they consolidated under the general name of Orangemen.

D. V. M. Lash was killed at Carson's Landing, Miss., by a man named Battle. The difficulty originated about fifty cents claimed to have been won by Battle from Lash. The work was done with a double-barreled shot gun—the butt end of it. The magistrate fined Battle $20 and he went his way rejoicing.

City Solicitor Worrell, of Philadelphia, under instructions from the Councils, is about to enter suits against the clerks of the Tax Receiver's office who are behindhand in their accounts. The deficits are said to amount to over one hundred thousand dollars. The most of this is owing by clerks under former administration of the Collector's office.

A pleasure party stopped at Lutz's Hotel, at Bridesburg, on Wednesday afternoon, and indulged in a dance on the piazza, which was two stories in height. During the dance the floor of the second story gave way, and about twenty persons, men and women, were thrown in a heap on the ground. The entire party were somewhat bruised, and two or three of the women were severely hurt.

It is expected that two or three hundred women will attend the Michigan University at its next term. About thirty entered last season, and reports say that they all held their own with the male students in the entire course of study, including the higher mathematics, physical science, Latin, Greek, and medicine or law. In the rigid examinations at the recent commencement, not one of them failed.

The Catholics will Agitate for a Repeal of the School Laws.

[From the Cincinnati Catholic Telegraph.]
If these be refused, the enemies of our faith may be assured that we will not submit tamely to the injustice. We will be ever law-abiding, as we were when our highest municipal officer forbade the sacred concert in honor of the Pope on the sanctimonious plea that it was a desecration of the Sabbath. We will treasure the remembrance of the legislative pains and penalties under which we suffer, as we will remember the comparison which the Mayor made between a sacred concert and the sensual noise of the beer garden.

We will not imitate the sly, serpentine maneuvers of cloaked hostility. We will answer enemies by the free, open, manly use of our suffrages. We propose to teach him, and others who use their power to insult and injure us because we are Catholics, that every one-third of the population of this city will compel a different policy—that they will force legislation into the channels of even-handed justice. We insist for no favor, but we will abandon no rights. It is opportune to make this candid, explicit statement. The men who boldly proclaimed their faith on last Sunday, who moved with the strong, free step of freedom, who do not reject the opportunity that was given them to protest against injustice to their spiritual chieftain, are not made of that clay that covers and cringes to the unlawful exercise of authority. They will resent a public wrong in a manner that all honest men will approve and applaud. It is time that they should learn that we have passed from infancy to manhood. Our resistance will be more potent than the unheeded cry of the cradle. Times change, and we change with them.

Communications to Newspapers.

Recently in England an action was brought in the City of London County Court, by Mr. Walter, a solicitor, to recover damages from the Echo newspaper for having detained the manuscript of a letter on "Legal Information," which had been sent to that journal for insertion, but which was not accepted, and had not been returned. On the trial the editor of the Echo stated that, in accordance with his rule in regard to rejected communications, he had destroyed the manuscript. The Judge said that if the manuscript had been in existence at the time the plaintiff applied for it, he would have been entitled to recover, but as the communication had been destroyed he had no remedy.

The plaintiff then contended that he had a property in the rags of the paper containing his essay; and also a right in an action of trover to recover the value of the material. The Judge in reply said the amount would be very small, as it would take a very large manuscript to be worth a farthing as waste paper. The Judge also said that the fact of a writer sending an article to an editor implied that he was to have sole control over it, as it could not be expected that an editor could pierce a hole and docket every manuscript for the purpose of returning it. If it should be asked for. If that was to be done a dozen editors, the Judge said, would not be sufficient for a daily newspaper. Under this ruling the case was dismissed, and costs allowed to the defendants.

In a recent article on the geographical distribution of the whales, Dr. Grey, of the British Museum, comes to the conclusion that there are probably as many kinds of whales in the Southern ocean as in the Northern seas.

The oldest herbarium known has, according to Nature, been discovered in Cassel, some of the plants having been prepared in 1556. It contains 614 plants, properly fastened down and labeled, and was formed by Caspar Katzenberger.

New Jersey nail mills are manufacturing a new patent nail, for which they have secured a State right. It has serrated edges, and its superiority is said to be manifest in work where any jolting motion may have a tendency to shake the nail loose.

Dr. E. Dingler has tested the efficacy of an alloy for soldering iron to steel, or either of these to brass. This alloy consists of three parts of tin, 39½ of copper, and 7½ of zinc. When applied in a molten state it will firmly unite the metals first named.

The first essential element to successful civil engineering lies in a thorough orthographic survey, without which all engineering must be a greater or less error. The perfect in design, because they are not based upon the topographic features of the site to which they are applied.

It is said that one cord of wood will manufacture eight hundred pounds of paper. One ton of straw gives seven hundred and fifty pounds. Wood suffers a waste of ten per cent, straw from thirty to seventy per cent, according to the kind of paper made. There seems to be no question of superiority between the two—local conditions determining their precedence. The very best paper that can be made without the addition of rag stems to be made from equal parts of wood and straw. Four tons of paper are manufactured daily at the largest paper mill in the United States. This paper is sized in the ordinary manner, 200 pounds requiring only one pound of glue.

Sojourner Truth on Woman's Dress.

Sojourner Truth lectured in Detroit the other day. The Post gives the following report of a part of her remarks:
"I am awful (and on dress, you know, Women, you forget that you are the mothers of creation; you forget your sons were cut off like grass by the war, and the land was covered with their blood; you rig yourselves up in panners and Grecian bend flummeries; you and mothers and gray haired grandmothers wear high-heeled shoes, and humps on their heads, and put them on their babies, and stuff them out so that they keel over when the wind blows. Oh, mothers, what is the name of ye? What will such lives as you live do for humanity? When I saw them women on the stage at the women's suffrage convention, the other day, I thought what kind of reformers be you, with goose wings on your heads, as if you were going to fly, and dressed in such ridiculous fashion, talking about reform and woman's rights? 'Pears to me you had better reform yourselves first. But Sojourner is an old body, and will soon get out of this world into the next, and wants to say when she gets there, 'Lord, I have done my duty; I have told the whole truth, and kept nothing back.'"

Voudonism.

The New Orleans Picayune, of July 9, contains an account of a circumstance that has come to light in that city, in which the life of a young lady of highly respectable family will probably be sacrificed to jealousy and superstition. The facts in the case are these: "A young man named Cotter had formed an attachment for a young Creole lady and addressed her. His advances were well received, and it became bruited about that they were to be married. It reached the ears of a quadroon woman who was very much attached to the young man. She at once visited a 'Voudon priestess' from whom she procured a powder, which, if given to the young lady, would make her lose her lover. Through the instrumentality of a servant girl, the powder was administered, and shortly after the young lady became sick. Her health has rapidly given way ever since. Physicians were called in, and, though baffled for a time, found out that she was suffering from a strong vegetable poison. Close questioning of the servant girl soon developed the facts in the case. Through the instrumentality of a skillful detective all the parties interested in the outrage have been discovered, but, as yet, no legal steps have been taken in the matter. It is hoped the young lady's life can be saved, but her health will be permanently injured."

A Scandal Squelched.

In the Boulton and Park case, not only has Mr. Fiske (ex-United States Consul at Leith), been fully acquitted, but Chief Justice Cockburn, in his summing up, severely censured the conduct of the police in entering and searching his apartments without any warrant or authority whatever, and has also denounced in the most energetic terms the cruelty and injustice of judging Mr. Fiske in an indictment for conspiracy with a great number of persons, most of whom were entirely unknown to him, but by whose misconduct he would be held responsible, and subjecting him to the further disadvantage of being put upon his defense in a place where he is a stranger, without friends, and hundreds of miles away from the place where his offense was alleged to have been committed. So severe a censure upon the law officers of the crown, or one pronounced in language of such stern rebuke, has seldom been uttered from the English bench.—(London Anglo-American Times.)

JACOB VOEGTLE.

No. 103 East Washington Street.

INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA.

Sole Agent for GREENWOOD STOVE CO. STOVES.

By above notice my friends throughout the country will see that I am still Sole Agent for Greenwood Stove Co.'s stoves—at explanation thereof I found necessary as the public may be misled by an advertisement in the Journal headed "Cooking Stove," manufactured by Redway & Burton—for sale by all reliable Stove Dealers like Jacob Voegtle, No. 103 East Washington street. My name has been used in the advertisement without my knowledge or consent. I have never sold, nor kept for sale, that "Early Breakfast" Stove.

Respectfully, JACOB VOEGTLE.

GUARDIAN'S SALE.

The Guardian of the minor heirs of America Tucker, deceased, will sell her late residence at public auction on the premises,

On Saturday, July 13, at 2 o'clock P. M.

The property consists of a lot and a two-story brick house, slate roof, well, cistern, etc., all in good repair.

The property can be easily rented for $50 per month. Terms, one-third in hand and balance in two equal annual payments, secured by mortgage on the premises.

PATENT RIGHT EXCHANGE!!

H. O. FRINK, Mechanical Engineer and Draughtsman.

(Late with the Novelty Iron and Steel Works) Has opened an office No. 25 West Washington street in the Journal of Commerce Building, where he would be glad to meet his friends, and all others in business in this city, for the purpose of exchanging their rights in their inventions for the rights of others. He will also give special attention to the preparation of Specifications, Drawings, etc., for all parties desiring to make application for Patents. Any persons having inventions partially made, can receive aid in completing said improvements, and also learn whether said improvements are patentable.

Patents for Sale.

WANTED—A PARTNER, WITH ABOUT $7,500, to buy a one-third interest in a well established and very profitable manufacturing business in this city; knowledge of the business not absolutely necessary. Strict investigation will prove this to be a splendid investment. Inquire of JAMES FRANK, No. 35 E. Washington street.

WILLIAMS' NEURALGIC PILLS.

A Specific for NEURALGIA, Nervous Headache and Nervous Toothache, BROWNING & SLOAN, MANUFACTURERS, INDIANAPOLIS.

Price, $1.00 per Box.

These Pills contain no strychnine or other poisonous stimulant, to shatter the nervous system. It is purely a nerve tonic and sedative, so combined as to quiet and strengthen the nerves, and through them, the whole system.

I certify that in the fall of 1867, I had a most violent attack of neuralgia, which lasted several days, and all remedies failed to relieve it. I took Williams' Neuralgic Pills, which cured me in a few hours so perfectly, that I have not had a twinge of the disease since.

MINOR MENTION.
General Steele, at the Hospital for the Insane, is said to be improving.
Colonel A. H. Markland, special agent of the Post Office Department, has been transferred from Louisville to this city.
Edward Wilson, recently arrested in Chicago for counterfeiting, was yesterday brought before Commissioner Kneller and committed to the county jail to await preliminary examination to-morrow.

The Board of Directors of the Indianapolis Fair Association have determined to construct their own race course at the grounds, and have therefore rejected all the bids recently made. Work will be begun next Monday.
Rev. W. H. Roberts, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, who was recently called to the rectorship of Grace, Episcopal Church, in this city, has accepted the same, and will enter upon the discharge of his duties on the first Sunday in September.

Charles Walters, John Hamilton, Charles Hicks and John F. White were arrested yesterday on complaint of the Water Works Company, for hauling boulders from below the canal dam, from off land belonging to the company. The trial takes place next Tuesday before Justice Fisher.

The Protestant League Meeting.
During last evening quite a crowd of people gathered in front of Masonic Hall, the object being to attend the anti-Catholic meeting partially called yesterday morning. By some oversight, the hall had not been engaged and was not opened. Those who remained at half-past eight o'clock adjourned the meeting until to-morrow evening, at the State House yard, when, it is announced, Messrs. Morton, Baker, Hendricks, Gordon, McDonald and others are expected to be present and address the assembly.

Criminal Court Matters.
The Grand Jury yesterday afternoon submitted their report and adjourned until August 7. The session lasted ten days, during which subpoenas for one hundred and sixty-five witnesses were issued, twenty-nine indictments found, thirteen cases dismissed and eleven continued. Two prisoners were ordered discharged from the county jail.

The following parties were arraigned yesterday afternoon and pleaded not guilty: George Huston and William Kenney, robbery; John Childers, grand larceny; James Macawley, ditto; Thomas Larkins, ditto.

The Beta Theta Pi Fraternity meet to-night at Room 6, Vinton's Block.
Mr. E. C. HOWELL, Superintendent of the Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph, has been transferred to Cincinnati, and is succeeded in his city by Mr. George L. Farnsworth.

H. RUSSELL, the carpenter who fell from the Plymouth Church steeple, a few weeks since, is worse and not able to work. The Good Templars, of which he is a member, propose to give a festival on next Tuesday evening, for his benefit.
LOCAL ITEMS.
A fact that every one should remember is that Craft & Cutler make a specialty of watches, and can now give a lady the choice of a gross of as handsome ladies' gold watches as were ever made, and at figures anywhere from $15 to $150. This watch lower is at 23 East Washington street.
The man who sent a box of grease for Capt. Hall to take to the North Pole with him would have exhibited much better sense if he had advised the Captain to lay in a stock of Frank Boyd's lubricating oils. Those North Pole fellows would then never have any trouble in keeping the earth's axis in good running order. Oils, paints and varnish, at 22 South Meridian street.
Something attractive.
Those choice Rembrandts taken with Harry Fowler's master skill at his Mammoth Art Studio, 24 and 26 East Washington street. Have some taken there yourself.

We are constantly importing Scotch Granite Monuments, and will have eleven very fine ones at the middle of July, three of which have already been sold in this city. Parties wanting monuments on the most favorable terms will do well to call on
CARPENTER BROTHERS,
36 East Market street.

Everybody seems to know that Cady Bros., 58 North Illinois street, is the cheapest shoe store in the city. I would think so from the amount of shoes they are selling.
The Boot Upside Down does not pretend to sell boots and shoes at cost, but will discount any cost prices offered. Large sales and small profits is the password of 49 and 53 West Washington street.

Soda water with fruit syrups is the desired thing. Castelli, 405 Massachusetts avenue has it. Also, choicest flavored ice cream. Try them.
The best goods bought for cash and sold for cash enables J. W. Adams, of the Boot Upside Down, to offer the best bargains in boots and shoes that there is in the city.

THE STAGE.
Mme. Anna Bishop is in England.
The Lingulars have reached California.
Mlle Pauline Lucca is again seriously indisposed.
The only theater open in Philadelphia is the American Theater.
Robert McWade is acting at the new Theater Royal, in Montreal.
The Royal opera house at Berlin has seats for an audience of 2,500.
The Worrell sisters and Harry Jackson were last week in St. Paul.

Mr. Brinley Richards' last matinee in London was announced for July 3.
The leasing of the new theater in Troy to Mrs. Waller has been completed.
Miss Madeline Schiller, the talented young pianist, is returning to England.
The Berger family of Swiss bell ringers will shortly appear in New York.

Willis Hays, of Louisville, has written a new song, "Genevieve," expressly for Mrs. Kellogg.
There are at present two thousand French actors and actresses out of employment in London.
Mrs. F. W. Lander is about to fill a brief engagement at the California Theater in San Francisco.

Dayton, Ohio, not satisfied with her two halls, proposes building another opera house this summer.
Milwaukee, Wis., dedicates a new and very grand opera house next month, and wants regular drama next season.
The Hanlons, Blondin and Leotard are in a circus at Madrid, and have played before King Amadeus and his wife.

The regular season of the Boston museum, now ended, extended over forty-eight weeks, and included 336 performances.
Charles Adams is engaged at the Imperial Opera House, Vienna, for four years, with an annual salary of 15,000 florins.
Adelaide Ristori has purchased a hotel in Milan. Besides her own splendid villa, she owns a palace and three houses in Venice.

Camilla Urso was born at Palermo in 1810. She is announced to make her first appearance at Signor Arni's concert, in London.
Charlotte Cushman, the eminent tragedienne, and her sister, Miss Stebbins, the sculptor, are visiting at Hyde Park, on the Hudson.

According to Mr. Gilmore's project the coliseum for the next great jubilee will cover an area of 800 by 500 feet and be able to seat 100,000 persons.
Mme. Seebach is safely installed in Dresden, where she has placed her son at one of the best schools, and will, for the present, be regularly domiciled.

Minneapolis, Minnesota, is at work on a new opera house now, and when completed it is expected to go ahead of anything in the northwest. Chicago included.
P. S. Gilmore will leave Boston for Europe in a few days, to promote the interests of the international jubilee which it is proposed to hold in Boston in June, 1872.

The Grand Opera House, New York, will reopen September 4th, under the management of Mr. John F. Cole, with Daniel E. Bandmann and wife in "Narcisse."
Mme. Raabe, who was to appear in this country in the German drama "Lili," in the autumn, is said to be detained by unavoidable causes, and will in no case be able to start before January.

Miss Annie Louise Cary is visiting her home in Maine. This accomplished vocalist will assist in a grand concert to be given at City Hall, Portland, in aid of the Maine General Hospital, July 21.
Mlle. Marie Dumas, a character actress well known in Paris, Baden, Zurich, Milan, Florence, etc., has arrived in London with her repertoire, "Savoyette de Salon." These are dramas in miniature, half recitative, half dialogue, ranging from grave to gay, from lively to serious, and lasting an average of eight minutes. Mlle. Dumas being the sole executant. She has appeared in one or two private circles, and been well received. A comedy, with music, by Madame Viardot, is among her list.

Some ten or twelve years ago Charlotte Cushman, the eminent tragedienne, placed the sum of $18,000 in the hands of one of the Stebbins brothers, of New York, to invest in some safe security, and he loaned it to the then proprietors of the Spencer House, in Cincinnati, taking a mortgage on the leasehold as security. Time ran on, and Miss Cushman's investment became a more permanent character than she wished, until about six months since, having grown tired of waiting she ordered a foreclosure of the mortgage.

A young poet of Berlin is engaged in writing a drama on the glorious campaign against France, in which the King, the Crown Prince, Prince Frederick Charles, and a number of Prussian Generals figure conspicuously. The play will for the first time be produced in the Royal Palace, and probably a number of the leading characters of the day will also act the parts. A Royal Princess is talked of as the leading actress for the occasion, but it is feared that Emperor William will not give his consent to her appearance on the stage.

Mlle Emma Albani is engaged by Mr. Gye for five years, the terms being £250 per month for the first three years and £300 a month for the rest of the engagement. This Mlle. Albani is a Canadian by birth, her real name being Emma La Jennesse; her father is an old French-Canadian family and her mother Lambert at Milan, and made her debut at Milan about twenty years ago. Great things are predicted for her. Her family reside in Albany.

When musicians in Massachusetts want to give a concert on Sunday evening they call it "sacred," and then sing or fiddle what they please. The brass band of Haverhill gave one of these "sacred" performances last Sunday with a great deal of drum and trombone and triangle, much to the scandal of the sober sort. An old manager once explained the way in which he arranged a "sacred" programme: "I take an old glee," he said; for instance, "Tell me, shepherds, tell me, pray, have you seen my Chlois pass this way?" I strike out "shepherds" and put in "brethren," I substitute "David" for "Chlois," and it goes beautifully.

Spontini was a man of overbearing vanity. The following short address to the band and singers, at the last rehearsal of his "Olyn pia," is highly characteristic. Every one was at his post, either on the stage or in the orchestra. Spontini arrived last. He was in full dress, his breast covered with decorations from nearly every court in Europe. He walked in a stately manner, and then assumed his seat with the fervor of a priest at the altar. He raised his conducting stick and cast a glance around him at the double array he commanded. "Gentlemen," he said, elevating his voice and laying a particular emphasis on certain syllables, "The work we are about to have the honor of rehearsing is a masterpiece. Let us begin."

THE FARM AND HOUSE.
THE FARM.
MIXED FARMING.
The Farmers' Herald (Oxford, England), forcibly says: "Mixed husbandry is needful to realize the full advantages of which the farm properly managed will yield. Every year the price of farm products varies; some will be high and some low, and thus the farmer catches good prices for a part of his annual crop, if it is wholly dependent upon one kind of crop, he may be wholly disappointed. A little seed of everything makes a muckle, and if one thing does not pay, another will."

RUN SCALD ON SHEEP.
It is often the case that the hot sun will scald a closely shorn sheep. A simple and effectual remedy is fresh butter or lard applied to the inflamed spot. Sheep are subjected to so many accidents that they should be looked after, regularly, twice each day. If anything is wrong it can then be taken in time; delay in even small things is sometimes fatal. It is very unwise to keep sheep in a pasture where there is neither shade nor water. We would advise no man to own a flock if he does not possess a pasture well provided with these.

PLANTING FORESTS.
All over the country—that is where timber is getting scarce—we hear of movements to plant forest trees for timber. In some sections this has already been extensively done. Even in Maine, where such immense quantities of lumber have been and are still drawn, they talk of renewing forests by fresh transplantation. This is a very encouraging sign. But the work can not be carried into effect too soon. In from twenty to thirty years forest trees grow to a very respectable size, and going on with the process year after year, by the time the first planting shall be ready to fell the supply will be continuous.

WHEN SHOULD PIGS BE WEANED?
The Farmer and Piggy gives the following answer to the above question: "Eight weeks old is the best age. Seven will do. They should be accustomed to food such as is ordinarily given to hogs before weaning, and then there will be no need of any loss in growth from the loss of the mother's milk. If they are at all inclined to sour, a portion of the best preventive is an occasional day's feed of whole corn, or a few kernels with their other food each day."

"They should have all they can eat, and even if the farmer is under the necessity of buying corn to keep them along till their own corn is ready in the fall, the growth will generally pay at least fifty per cent. over and above the cost."

ALL ABOUT BUTTER.
Butter, when taken from the churn, should be separated from the buttermilk by washing with clean cold water, or otherwise; should then be salted freely and set in a cool place for full twenty-four hours. Should then be worked in a buttermilk water, and streaks disappear, and no more, as too much working injures the butter.

It is then fit for market. May be packed in tubs in the summer, or made into neat rolls in winter. It should be excluded from the air as much as practicable, and kept but a few days in the salt.

Use all the salt you can without making the butter gritty; or, in other words, all it dissolves. Remember that neatness in appearance adds to the market value of butter, more than to almost any other article.

Prepare tubs or firkins by soaking forty-eight hours with salt and water. In packing, cover each layer of butter with thin cloth or sprinkles with salt, so as to lift it at each fitting. Fill the tubs as full as you can without touching the cover. In packing do not put in one poor churning; keep that for home use, or sell it for what you can get.

The only proper way to color butter in the winter is to feed good bright hay, pumpkins, squashes, carrots, etc.
When carrying butter to market in warm weather, cover with new-mown grass. Do not milk in a water pail that makes the milk taste.

Do not set milk in wooden dishes. Do not set milk in a wooden churn, or any wooden dish.
Do not allow milk to remain long in the churn.
Do not allow milk, cream or butter to stand in a cellar or other room where there are potatoes, cabbage, onions, or other decaying vegetables; soap-grease, or any unpleasant smell, as they will absorb the flavor and become offensive.

Do not allow milk or cream to stand until the whey begins to separate, as it gives the butter a small and taste similar to that of whey.
Do not take butter to market in summer the day it is churned. Work it again and take it with the next lot.

Do not put butter of different colors together. If in rolls, separate with a wet cloth.
Never add coloring matter to butter. It is better to be white than colored artificially.

Follow these directions, and your butter will be better, will always be marketable, and will bring much better prices.—(D. D. Comstock.)
THE HOUSE.
Home and Health for June has the following:
A teaspoonful of mustard, mixed in four ounces of hot water, will remove obstinate hiccough.

Mrs. W. R. D. writes us that salt sprinkled upon the carpet before sweeping will make it look bright and clean. This is also a good preventive against moths.
Boil one pound of powdered sulphur in two quarts of water for half an hour. Apply with a brush while still warm, and you will prevent the damp and unwholesome odor from the brick walls of your workshop.
Leaky tin or iron ware is easily and quickly mended by hammering a small nail or tack of soft lead, fit the hole, cut off outside, and rivet it down. Rivets or soft lead or other metal may be used to mend iron kettles, etc.
Glycerine and litharge, stirred to a paste, hardens rapidly, and makes a suitable cement for iron upon iron, for two stone surfaces, and especially for fastening iron to stone. The cement is insoluble and is not attacked by strong acids.
To make soft soap, boil twenty-five pounds of fried grease in two pails of hot lye. Next day add another pailful of hot lye; also on the following day, if there is grease on the top of the soap. Afterward add a pailful of hot water each day until the barrel is filled.

Kerosene applied by means of a moistened cloth to stove will effectually keep them from rusting during the summer. It is also an excellent material to apply to all iron utensils used about the farm. Give plows, cultivators and the like a coating before they are put away in the fall.

CORNEB BEER.—In cooking corned beef, at this season of the year so delicious, it should be put in boiling water when put on to cook, and when it is done it should remain in the pot until cold. This is the whole secret of getting corned beef juicy and full-flavored, instead of the contrary.

POTATO STARCH.—To make starch from potatoes, wash your potatoes clean, then grate them into a tub of water. After if becomes settled, drain the water off, putting fresh on again, pouring and changing about three times, when the starch will be ready to dry. This is done by spreading it out on paper or muslin, and it will be dry in a very short time.

A USEFUL CEMENT.—There is a first-rate home-made cement for filling up cracks in an old stove or range. The ingredients are wood ashes and salt, equal proportion in bulk of each, little less of salt; reduce to a soft paste with cold water, and fill cracks when the range or stove is cool. The cement will soon become perfectly hard. Fire-clay (obtained at the stove dealers) will sometimes answer, but this home-made cement is almost a command, where wood is the fuel.

ROLLING A HAM.—Does every one know how to boil a ham? queries Mrs. Homespun in one of her very instructive articles in the Prairie Farmer. We venture to say every one does not know, at least not properly, therefore we shall be doing a good deed by copying her recipe, which is as follows: There are two ways, one is to let the water boil on the gallop for several hours; the other is to let it come to the boiling point, and then set it on top of the stove or range, and let it simmer from 5 to 7 hours, according to its weight. I soak the ham over night, then put it on the fire, when the water bubbles it is taken off and set where it will keep the bubble, but not boil. The scum is all skimmed off then; and a twelve pound ham simmers five hours, and a twenty pound one eight hours. When half done, the water is turned off and fresh boiling water turned in. This freshens the ham and makes it as tender as a chicken. Our hams are from pigs I abominably hogs feed, but if one must boil a huge ham, be sure and add a pint of good cider vinegar to the first water. It is simmered in, and it will take out the strong flavor, and make it tender and delicate.

A CARD.
In advertising the fact that I was giving my whole time and attention to the treatment of Catarrhal and Consumptive diseases, and that I had prepared myself thoroughly for a correct diagnosis and successful treatment of these diseases of the air passages and mucous surfaces, I was aware of the fact that I was stepping over the line marked out by the professional code of ethics. But while regretting that the rule makes my course a cause of censure and ostracism, I am more than repaid in the congratulations of the hundreds of people in this city and State whom I have been successful in curing of these obstinate diseases that have baffled the skill of those who repudiate me. And now I transgress again in saying this publicly that I have removed from 31 Virginia avenue, and have fitted up rooms in the Y. M. C. A. Building, and have largely increased my facilities for the treatment of patients. I will be glad to see any one wishing to consult me in reference to any of the diseases specified in my card below. In my specialty I am more competent, everything else being equal, than a physician whose mind is confused with the multitudinous duties of a general practice. I am actually curing every day persons who have considered themselves hopelessly incurable.

DR. L. WOOD,

THE CITY.

Persons leaving the city during the summer can have The Evening News mailed regularly to them, by ordering the same at the office. Terms fifty cents per month or one dollar and a quarter for three months.

The minstrels at the Academy to-night.

None of the county courts are in session to-day.

A rather orchestration concert at Reinman's to-night.

Matinee at the Academy of Music to-morrow afternoon.

Important business meeting of the Emmet Guards to-night.

The Civil Circuit Court has adjourned until Monday afternoon.

The Lafayette railroad bankruptcy case in the United States Circuit Court, draws its slow length along. Evidence is still being heard.

The Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company opened an office at Terre Haute yesterday, their new direct lines being completed to St. Louis via Vandalia route.

Thirty-five building permits have been issued by the City Clerk, during the week ending at noon to-day. The estimated cost of the improvements thus authorized is $43,630.

MARRIAGE licenses have been issued to the following parties since noon yesterday: John H. Thompson and Frances E. Watts. Thomas G. Summers and Mary D. Van Antwerp.

A DISPATCH from Omaha states that the excursion arrived there at four o'clock yesterday and left at seven. The excursionists were in the best of spirits, and having a fine trip.

The Water Works Company let water into their South and East street pipes this forenoon. At a point on the former street the pipe burst and flooded the streets before it could be shut off.

The last of the County Clerks having acknowledged the receipt of the session laws of the State for 1870-1, Governor Baker will to-morrow issue his official proclamation declaring the laws enacted by the last General Assembly to be thenceforth in force.

The Street-Commissioner might profitably employ his time in seeing that a little more sand was put on the boulders on Alabama street, north of Massachusetts avenue. Then having done that there is an immense amount of filth in the gutters at the intersection of Illinois and Washington streets, which it might be well to have removed.

A MAN named Peter Pretiger, living in the suburbs of the city on the Bluff road, was arrested yesterday, charged with abusing his wife and children in the most shameful manner, while drunk. He was lodged in the Station House, and this morning fined $15.00 by the acting Mayor, and sent up for thirty days besides.

On Monday evening next, at Masonic Hall, Prof. A. W. Smith, the Wizard of the East, will commence a series of magical, musical and comic entertainments. The Wizard is accompanied by Prof. H. M. Fay, the elocutionist, and Harry Candeland, the white clown and great vocal humorist. One hundred valuable presents, consisting of furniture, jewelry, fancy goods, etc., will be given away.

THE COURTS.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT.—The Lafayette Railroad bankruptcy case still occupies the attention of this Court.

None of the county courts are in session to-day.

CITY.—Robert Wilburn, for carrying concealed weapons, was committed.

Peter Pretiger was committed for disturbing the peace, abusing his wife and children, etc., for thirty days and fined $15.00.

Mrs. Logan was found not guilty of assaulting Thomas Dermody, and discharged.

Drunk and disorderly.—Peter O'Connor, American Colter, John Bigelo and Thomas C. Swan. The latter paid and the other three went on the chain gang.

Transfers of Real Estate.

The following is the record of transfers filed since noon yesterday:

Allen & Root to Robert H. Patterson, lot 125 and 1/2 1st, grantor's add, $1,250.

The same to Samuel W. Patterson, lot 127 and 1/2 1st, same add, $1,250.

W. J. Wooten to W. J. Brown, lot 9, grantor's sub, lot 19 Fletcher's first add, $600.

W. H. Morrison to N. M. Schofield, lots 84 and 85, grantor's 2d sub, $2,000.

W. W. Leathers to America Schofield, lots 30, 31, Morrison's add, $2,700.

Geo. T. Smith to J. G. York, lot 9, A. E. Fletcher's 1st add, $7,000.

W. H. Morrison to Mary A. Wilson, lots 120, 121, 122, grantor's 3d add, $5,000.

Crown Hill Cemetery to Floyd Estler, lot 33 in sec 16, $40.

E. R. Martindale to Sebra N. Hammond, lots 13, 34, in Martindale's central add, $3,600.

Total consideration, $21,350.

Runaways.

Two runaways occurred in this city this forenoon, one of them being the delivery horse and wagon of the Cincinnati Bakery, and the other a horse belonging to Warren Tate. The former ran on Maryland street, and striking a dray between Meridian and Pennsylvania streets, was stopped. The wagon was partially wrecked, and a barrel of sugar spilled. Mr. Tate's horse was attached to a wagon loaded with lumber. Aside from scattering the lumber for some distance along South Alabama street no particular damage was done. No one was hurt in either instance.

Our enterprising tea man, H. H. Lee, will throw open his new establishment, at the corner of Madison avenue and Meridian street, to-morrow. At considerable expense, he has placed therein new and improved machinery, including a coffee roaster. Everything is in elegant order, and the store will richly repay a visit.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Parker has reduced the prices on all his finest make collars. Think of it, Semper Idem, Stanley, Gray's mould, Burlington, Cottage, Picadilly, No. 30, etc., reduced to 25 cents. "Everybody's Friend" collar five boxes for $1.00, at "No. 30."

There is an attraction at the office of the "new" Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine that is worth a visit. Call.

The July clearance sales on all dress goods is going on at the Indiana Store, 20 East Washington street. Spades is offering bargains to every one. Store open every evening.

With characteristic energy and enterprise H. H. Lee will open to-morrow, at the corner of South Meridian street and Madison avenue, his new coffee and spice mills. Years of dealings with citizens of this vicinity has brought the goods of the China Tea Stores to be considered first class, and families always duplicate their bills there after buying the first lot. This mill contains new and improved machinery, including the celebrated Burns patent coffee roaster, which will be under the charge of a competent man of twelve years experience. Orders left at the China Tea Stores will receive prompt attention. Our readers are referred to his card in the double column.

The state of the barometer does not make any difference in the taking of portraits, either in oil or water colors, at the cool and pleasant photograph rooms of Miller & Salter, 45 East Washington street.

Something for everybody to consider. Everybody should study his or her interest, and in no better way can this be done than by attending the bankrupt auction sale by Mr. Featherston, at his auction rooms on West Washington street, and securing some of the excellent bargains to be had there. That bargains are to be had there the hundreds that have possessed enough common sense to avail themselves of the same will bear ample testimony, and the reckless prices at which the goods are being sold crowds the house both day and evening. Never before has there been such a sale in this city, and the excitement attendant upon it comes altogether from the fact that we have stated above that the bargains offered were such excellent ones that the people are determined, whether actually needing them or not, to lay in a supply of dry goods, etc. Reader, you should go and do likewise, for you will never perhaps have such an opportunity offered you again.

Water coolers. John Woodbridge & Co. have just received another lot of those cheap coolers. Call and see them.

You, who prefer to smoke a pipe, try "Uncle Bob" or Magnolia smoking, manufactured by Thomas Madden & Co.

The proprietors of the St. Joachim Dollar Store announce that they will open at 22 West Washington street, on next Saturday, July 15.

Readers, at nine o'clock to-morrow morning, the St. Joachim Dollar Store opens at 22 West Washington street. An inspection of their goods will satisfy you that you can not buy the same goods elsewhere for the same money.

Beautiful hair switches for braiding, only $4.50, at Muir & Foley's.

Whether it be a dollar ring or shirt stud, or even a thousand dollar diamond set, you can be accommodated with any article in the jewelry line, at a fair price, at Bingham & Co.'s, 50 East Washington street.

The proprietors of the St. Joachim Dollar Store announce that they will open at 22 West Washington street, on next Saturday, July 15.

The celebrated Bethesda Water, from the mineral springs of Waukesha, Wisconsin, can be had at the Corner Drug Store in any quantity desired. Remarkable curative properties have been ascribed to this water. Inquire at the store about it.

One thing more will complete your happiness on your vacation, and that is an elegant summer hat from 12 East Washington street. Ike Davis & Co. have at all times a fine assortment of the latest styles of head wear.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 12, 1871.

Messrs. McGilliard & Brown, General Insurance Agents.

GENTLEMEN: I desire to express for Mrs. L. A. Carson, as well as for myself, thanks for your prompt adjustment and payment of the loss on her dwelling house and furniture on North Alabama street, which was destroyed by fire ten days ago. Very truly yours, Wm. S. Hubbard.

In superiority of mechanism, directness of action and variety of uses, it is susceptible of. The "American" sewing machine has no equal. No. 19 East Washington street.

The proprietors of the St. Joachim Dollar Store announce that they will open at 22 West Washington street, on next Saturday, July 15.

The "Bismarck" stands in this city as the cigar without a rival. Manufactured by F. Gehring & Co., 71 East Washington street.

Delicious peach ice cream, together with ices and the coldest of soda water, at Castell's, 105 Massachusetts avenue, corner of Vermont street.

Special Notice.

Gentlemen desirous of replenishing their wardrobes will find it to their great advantage to call on Sol. Moritz & Co., No. 19 West Washington street. Having been considerably overstocked this season they are disposed to sell the remainder of their spring and summer cassimeres (made up in superior style) at cost. Their cutter being in skill second to none, and everything else to correspond, you can not fail of securing immense bargains. Their stock comprises some of the noblest and most stylish of Scotch suitings, diagonal and fancy pantaloons, cassimeres, and a vast many of other kinds and shades. Call early and see.

No humbug. We always mean what we say and advertise no nonsense.

Do not be troubled with flies. Get rid of them by putting wire screens in your windows, manufactured by C. H. Cox, 27 North Illinois street.

At Arcade, No. 6, they are making them get now. "GET WHAT?" Prices, of course, in men and boys' light weight suits. They want the room for fall goods.

Wanted, the public to know that we are selling goods at the following prices in our new store:

8 lbs. Standard A Sugar for $1.00;
7 lbs. Crushed Granulated for $1.00;
3 1/2 lbs. Old Gov't Java for $1.00;
A choice Imperial Tea, $1.00 per lb.;
A good Black Tea, 75c. per lb.;
The very choicest of all kinds at $1.00;
Green Rio Coffee, from 17c. per lb. upward.

Also, a full line of Coffees and Teas of all kinds, lower than any house in the city. City Tea and Grocery Store, 47 and 49 North Illinois street, corner Market.

For cheap lumber, lath and shingles, call on R. M. Cosby, 317 Massachusetts avenue.

Take a chew; it's Highland Gem fine cut, manufactured by Madden & Co.

Handsome sets of curls, $2.50 to $5.00. Go to Muir & Foley's Hair Store, 60 North Illinois street.

The ladies will find that the neatest fitting and coolest corset in the city is to be had at Conaty's. Conaty's magnanimity allows him to sell them for 25 cents. All other goods in the notion line in the same proportion.

BUSINESS NOTICES.
